

Peru solar Energy Storage System

Overview

Located in Requena and Tamshiyacu, both in the department of Loreto, two solar battery storage sites have been up and running by the Amazonas Energía Solar joint venture owned by Peruvian company Novum Solar and French-owned EDF Perú. As electricity demand increases and the nation looks to reduce its reliance on fossil fuels, solar and energy storage solutions are becoming central to its energy strategy. This shift is not only supported by technological progress but also encouraged by government incentives and market dynamics. By 2025, Peru's energy landscape is set to transform with over 6 GW of new renewable energy projects. The projects, installed for utility Electro Oriente, with 9.
